

Remember the people who changed your life? We're them.

We're the real life high school class you never had but always wanted, and we're all in to make sure young people win. We know the goal of a great education is future success on the job.
No tests. No bureaucracy. Only results.

Teaching the soft skills employers are looking for; skills like showing up on time, communication, time management, and team work.

Being the "cool class" at school that kids elect to take; employing certified teachers who offer the course during the school day for credit.

Removing barriers to education and employment that hold young people back and limit their ability to perform on the job.

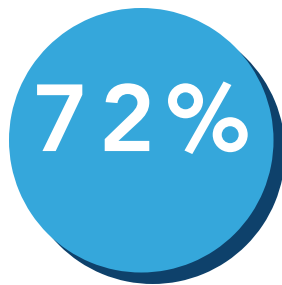

Taking the pulse on what employers need through our local workforce partners, training youth to meet those needs, placing them on the job, and sticking with them to ensure success.
